Doosan Škoda Power - General partner of FC Viktoria Plzeň

For more than a century the football club FC Viktoria Plzeň has honored the region of West Bohemia and its main city of Pilsen. In 2011 we celebrated our centenary, and thanks to this, we can proudly call ourselves one of the oldest clubs in the Czech Republic.

During the years, Viktoria has competed, for example, against the famous Juventus Turin, welcomed Brazil's Flamengo, and in 1971 went up against the stars of Bayern Munich in the UEFA Cup Winners' Cup. Viktorians have revisited this glorious history in recent years when the club was firmly established among the elite of Czech football. First, in 2010, they won the Czech Cup and qualified for the first time in its modern history for European club competitions. The most famous era of Viktoria began in 2011, when the club, in its centennial year, triumphed in the top premier domestic competition.

Since then, Pilseners have twice took home the Czech championship title, twice advanced sensationally to the Champions League, and even took part in Europa League competitions three times.

The historical summary should not forget the important figures in Czech football who rose up through the ranks with Viktoria Plzeň. Winner of the Golden Ball (award for best footballer in the world in 2003) Pavel Nedvěd, and the current Chelsea keeper Petr Čech.

Baseball

The Doosan Bears (Korean: 두산 베어스) are a professional baseball team based in Seoul, South Korea. They are a member of the KBO League. They have won five Korean Series titles (1982, 1995, 2001, 2015, and 2016) and play their home games at Seoul's Jamsil Baseball Stadium.

The club was founded in Daejeon in 1982 as the "OB Bears", with the Oriental Brewery as their owners, and moved to Seoul in 1985 before being officially renamed the "Doosan Bears", after the brewery was sold to InBev, and the Doosan Group assuming ownership in 1999.
